

Preventing Discrimination and Harassment Training: Canadian Edition

Canadian organizations are responding to the #MeToo movement by taking measures to ensure a working environment that is safe, inclusive, and harassment-free. Providing harassment training that is engaging and relevant for a diverse workforce is an important step in building a positive workplace and educating employees on their rights and responsibilities under Canada's federal and provincial laws.

EDUCATE | MOTIVATE | INFLUENCE

The Canadian Edition of Traliant's award-winning Preventing Discrimination and Harassment training discusses sexual harassment, discrimination, bystander intervention and other workplace topics in a modern, news show format, with bite-sized episodes, real-world video scenarios, quizzes and challenges. The course highlights federal protections against sexual harassment under the Canadian Human Rights Act and includes an interactive map that enables employees in Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Alberta, Quebec, and British Columbia to view information on the laws applicable where they work.

The training is available in multiple languages and in separate versions for Employees and Managers, who have additional responsibilities to prevent and report workplace misconduct.
