

Preventing Discrimination and Harassment Training: United Kingdom Edition

Organisations with diverse and distributed personnel, may be challenged to foster a culture free of sexual harassment, bullying, discrimination, and retaliation. Regular, interactive anti-harassment training is an important step in reducing the risk of misconduct by empowering employees to recognise, report and prevent occurrences of harassment and discrimination.

EDUCATE | MOTIVATE | INFLUENCE

The United Kingdom Edition of Traliant's award-winning Preventing Discrimination and Harassment training focuses on the ethical behaviours necessary to create a workplace free of discrimination and harassment. Designed for a global workforce, this course explores topics and key concepts in brief, interactive episodes, that feature real-world video scenarios and interactive quizzes and assessments with engagement points.

The course features a European host and British narrator and covers current global workplace topics including, sexual harassment, discrimination and bystander intervention as well as additional material specific to the Equality Act 2010. Training is available in multiple languages and in separate versions for Employees and Managers, who have additional responsibilities to prevent and report workplace misconduct.

WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING

"I evaluated over 10 different companies and I am thrilled that we ended up choosing Traliant. I enjoyed working with the entire Traliant team from the sales process to the final implementation. Traliant exceeded expectations at every point in the process and I will continue to be an advocate of their organization. Thank you all!"
